

GSC Interactive

Your complete health & safety e-learning solution

Welcome to GSC Interactive

With the national press reminding us daily of the pressures put on us all by the credit crunch, many of us are looking at ways of reducing costs. Traditionally training budgets are one of the first targets in the cost reduction programme, so how can you reduce costs and still ensure that you are providing a good level of quality training? Part of the answer is to implement an e-Learning system.

e-Learning has been seen by some as the poor relation of one to one training. This is no longer the case. With its media rich, highly interactive and engaging modules, e-Learning is now a real alternative to the traditional approach. We have a combination of Flash and HTML modules.

Our e-Learning Health & Safety Solution has been implemented in many blue-chip companies, local government organisations and across all industries from retail to manufacturing.

This system gives you full access to your training records in one place. There are a wide range of modules available, which take approximately 30 minutes to complete. Each module includes a user risk checklist and a multiple choice self test.

www.gsc-interactive.com

GSC Interactive

Your complete health & safety e-learning solution

Manual Handling Interactive

Manual handling is one of the biggest causes of workplace accidents. Understanding how to lift correctly could help your employees avoid serious injury. This training course will provide your employees with guidance on the correct lifting procedure and some handy hints on the do's and don'ts of manual handling

DSE Safety Interactive

The use of display screens has rapidly become part of every day life and we are all exposed to their harmful effects. This training course will provide information on how to correctly set up your workstation to avoid injury as well as looking at the hazards and risks you face while using this equipment

Fire Safety Interactive

Every workplace is at risk from fire. Would your employees know the correct procedure should a fire start? This training course will provide guidance on how fires start and how to prevent them. This is a must training course for every company

Office Safety Interactive

It is a fact that we are exposed to a range of risks and hazards during a normal working day, even in an office environment. This training course will alert your employees to the possible risks and hazards they face on a daily basis in an office

The above are available as HTML or Flash modules

Also available are the following Interactive modules;

- Health and Safety for Managers
- COSHH
- Risk Assessment
- Office Risk Assessment
- Working at Heights
- Stress
- Stress Management (Managers) - Flash only
- Stress Management (Employees) - Flash only
- Bomb Evacuation
- Environmental Awareness
- Induction Safety
- Driver Safety
- Food Hygiene

For further information call one of our advisors 01270 758890
E-mail at enquiries@gsc-interactive.com

www.gsc-interactive.com